

Related Organizations

Health Ministries Association Inc.

P.O. Box 7187, Atlanta, GA 30357-0187

Phone: 800-280-9919

www.healthministriesassociation.org

An interfaith membership organization committed to encouraging, supporting, and developing whole-person ministries in congregations and in the communities they serve. Offers a valuable manual on how to begin a Health Ministry.

Pacific Institute

104 S. Estes Dr., Suite 206

Chapel Hill, NC 27514

Phone: 919-967-8998, Fax: 919-968-1498

Assistance with an outcome measurement system called Outcome Engineering. This system is currently being developed for use by health ministry programs.

Interfaith Health Program

750 Commerce Dr., Suite 301

Decatur, GA 30030

Phone: 404-592-1460, Fax: 404-592-1462

Email: ggunder@emory.edu

www.ihpnet.org

Seeks to encourage faith groups to improve the individual and collective health of their members and the local and global communities they serve. Provides research, communication, and training for interfaith health programs.

International Parish Nurse Resource Center at Deaconess Parish Nurse Ministries

475 E. Lockwood Ave.

St Louis, MO 63119

Phone: 314-918-2559 or 314-918-2558

<http://ipnrc.parishnurses.org>

A reference center for information about the philosophy and activities of nurses in congregations nationally and internationally. Provides consultation to health care institutions, agencies and churches, which organize Parish Nursing Programs.

QHFP: Related Organizations

Community Wellness Services, Inc.

P.O. Box 94891

Pasadena, CA 91109

Phone: 541-382-0151, Fax: 541-382-0855

A non-profit consulting firm dedicated to fostering church-based health ministry programs. Provides on-site consultations, workshops and training.

Health Ministries Coordinators of Southern California

<http://www.healthministriescoord.org/>

Coordinate Health Ministry/Parish Nursing Programs at healthcare institutions throughout Southern California. Have developed a curriculum for training Health Ministers.

Catholic Healthcare Association

<http://www.chausa.org/>

The Catholic Healthcare Association of the United States represents the combined strength of its members, more than 2,000 Catholic health care sponsors, systems, facilities, and related organizations. Founded in 1915, CHA unites members to advance selected strategic issues that are best addressed together rather than as individual organizations.

Coalition for Healthier Cities & Communities

<http://www.healthycities.org/>

To stimulate and encourage collaborative action and efficient use of resources from multiple sectors and community systems. A primary focus of the Coalition is to promote the initiation, development and sustainability of initiatives that result in healthy people and healthy communities. We promote these initiatives at the local, regional, state and national levels--particularly those with a focus on the well-being of families and children.

Interfaith Health Program of the Carter Center

<http://www.cartercenter.org/>

The Program has the general goal of mobilizing the potential energies of faith groups around a wide range of health activities. Our primary interest in health is in prevention, health promotion and justice, as we support many kinds of direct service ministries of many people of all faiths.

Inter-religious Faith & Health Alliance

The mission of the Inter-religious Faith and Health Alliance is to provide on-going support to regional congregational health efforts through coordinated planning, collaborative training programs, empowerment of faith communities, regional development, and the sharing of resources for lay persons, health professionals, and clergy.

Mayo Clinic Health Oasis

<http://www.mayohealth.org/>

From its frontier roots, Mayo Clinic has grown to three clinics and four hospitals in Minnesota, Florida and Arizona that treat more than 400,000 patients each year, supported by extensive research and education programs. Through growth and change, Mayo remains committed to its heritage: cooperation for the good of the patient.

Religion Online of the USC Center for Religion and Civic Culture

http://www.usc.edu/dept/LAS/religion_online

Religion and Civic Culture On-Line is for lay people, clergy, and others who are working together, building city neighborhoods in California.

California Coalition for Compassionate Care

<http://www.finalchoices.calhealth.org/>

A statewide partnership of 30 regional and statewide organizations dedicated to the advancement of palliative medicine and end-of-life care in California.